BENNETT HAS TOP HEREFORD

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 24—Buck Bennett, Vandalia 4-H, showed the grand champion Junior division Hereford heifer at the Great Western Livestock show last week in Los Angeles, winning with the same animal that topped the Tulare county fair in September.

Mike Bennett showed a third-place Hereford heifer in both 4-H and Open division competition. Vic Childs was a winner in the show's calf scramble.

Other Vandalia 4-H members attending the Great Western were: Mike Lamb, Donny Michaeils and Greg Schmid.

Anderson, Owen, Named To Fair Board

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 24 — Richard Owen, of Ducor, and Lawrence Anderson, of Porterville were named as directors of the Porterville fair at a meeting of directors held Monday night at the home of Board Charman A. K. Hodgson.

Owen, who will work in the beef cattle division, replaces Cyrille Faure, who resigned from the board and whose term expires in September of 1961; Anderson, who will work in the hogs and sheep division, replaces Bill Reece, who also resigned and whose term expires in September. Continued on page 10

CHAIRMAN OF Porterville's Centennial year observance in 1961 will be Donald Jones, whose family came to Porterville prior to 1900 to establish what is now the Jones Hardware company. The appointment was announced at a meeting of a Porterville chamber of commerce committee that is "starting the ball rolling" for a year-long Porterville Centennial celebration that it is hoped will be participated in by all organizations of the community. PERFORMANCE-TESTED BULLS SOLD AT FRESNO AVERAGE 2.56 POUNDS PER DAY GAIN

By Bill Reece
Special Events Editor

FRESNO, Nov. 24 — Thirty-seven head of ruggedly-bred and performance-tested Hereford bulls changed hands last Saturday at the 13th annual Range Bull Sale sponsored by the San Joaquin Hereford association, with Springville livestockman, Vernon Gill, being the largest single purchaser.

The Springville cattleman bid in a total of nine head with an average daily weight gain of better than two pounds per day for the 160 day feed trial conducted on the sale bulls by the Faure-Cornell cattle company of Porterville for the breeders group.

The weekend sale, held at the Livestock pavilion at Fresno State college, was the third successive sale in which the valley breeders organization offered their stock on the basis of their weight gaining ability. The daily average for the entire lot was 2.56 pounds with a high of 2.90 registered by an Elm Lane Ranch entry of Fresno which was included in the Gill ranch purchase. Continued on page 10

Pioneer Water Annual Meeting Set December 5

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 24—Annual meeting of the Pioneer Water company has been set for December 5, 7:30 p.m., at the Porterville city hall, it has been announced by A. H. Hilton, president.

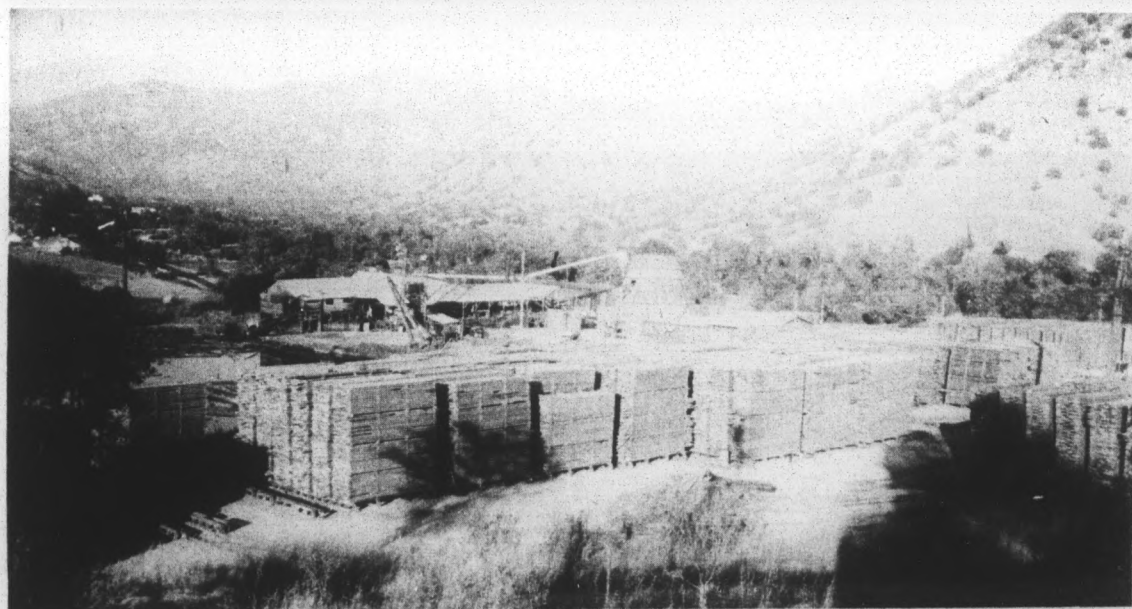

On the agenda will be a report by Hilton on activities of the company during the past year, followed by election of directors and officers.

Nominations for directors will be held at the meeting. Continued on page 10

BOB NUCKOLS WINS AT GREAT WESTERN

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 24—Bob Nuckols, Porterville Future Farmer, showed first, third, and fourth-place hogs in the Great Western Livestock show at Los Angeles last week, and also took first with a pen of three; he was exhibiting crossbreds.

Nuckols placed his medium weight steer sixth in a highly competitive class; took fifth in showmanship, and fifth in a Vernon Lions club trophy contest centered around development of better beef feeding methods and better beef quality.

SAWMILL SITE WILL BECOME RODEO GROUNDS WHEN SPRINGVILLE STAGES ITS ANNUAL SHOW IN APRIL OF '61

SPRINGVILLE, Nov. 24 — A sawmill site is becoming a rodeo grounds at Springville, where the former Rouch, and Harbor Box, mill location will be ready for the Springville rodeo, come April of 1961.

Above photo, looking toward the east, shows the site as it now is, cleared and ready for future work, with a bowl-type arena to be constructed in the area of the old mill pond, lower left, while balance of the area will be used primarily for parking.

Monte Gifford, president of the Springville Rodeo association, says that Pat McDonald will have his heavy equipment on the site by the end of the month, to complete leveling and grading of parking area, and to prepare the arena area for construction of bleachers that will virtually surround the arena.

The site, on highway 190 just south of town, was purchased by the Springville Rodeo association during the past year after Harbor Box had moved its operation

Editorial Comment

SPRINGVILLE STILL MOVES AHEAD

Moving of the Camp harness horse enterprise from Springville to Kentucky, which is now underway, takes a valuable asset from the Springville community — an asset from both the economic and publicity standpoint.

But every community has its progress and its setbacks over a period of years, and it is more than likely that a new owner of the highly-developed Camp property at Springville will also add something to the community.

It was unbelievable to many persons when the late Sol Camp announced that he intended to move headquarters for his world-famous harness horse string to Springville; but he did move there, and he developed a most beautiful facility. Since his death, his son, Jim, has carried on.

Now it becomes advantageous to move the operation — it's regrettable, but it's true. And certainly the Camps should carry the good wishes of all of us in this part of the country as they move into their new venture.

They leave behind a highly developed and colorful farm; Springville is fortunate to have had this project on its "Main street."

City Hall Beat

THIS IS THE PROBLEM ON GARBAGE COLLECTION

Now being put in final form is a city resolution that will increase garbage collection rates in the City of Porterville.

Reason for the rate increase is this: City councilmen believe that the refuse collection service should operate in the black; in fact there are only two ways of operating the service — charge sufficient rates, or finance with tax money. City councilmen believe that city services, such as garbage collection, should pay their way; they believe people using the service should pay for the service, they believe that general tax money should not be used for this purpose.

Certain basic items must be accounted for in order to establish a realistic rate: 1. Actual cost of operation must be taken into consideration — salaries, maintenance and operation of equipment; 2. overhead charges to cover such things as billing, social security, compensation insurance, bookkeeping; 3. depreciation of equipment sufficient to replace equipment as it wears out; 4. reserve fund to take care of expansion of the system.

If you believe that direct city services should operate in the black, there can be little argument on the first three points, however, there is room for discussion on the fourth point.

In trying to determine just how much money should be set aside for expansion, city councilmen and the city manager are considering the fact that sooner or later change in method of garbage disposal must be expected — either a facility that will eliminate the objectionable smoke and odor now coming from the present city sewer farm, or moving of the burning operation to a new location.

Either method brings up this point: Just how much money should be accumulated, and over what period of time. It is sound business for any public agency to use the money that it accumulates for the benefit of the people who pay that money, whether it be from fees for direct services, or from taxation. If money is accumulated over a long period of time, over a period of a number of years, then the people who pay that money may not benefit from its expenditure. There is also the point that if a fund has accumulated, a future council may decide to spend it in some way not related to the purpose for which it was collected.

In the case of garbage, if a future expenditure is necessary for a new type of garbage disposal at the present sewer farm, or if a new site is acquired, suitable for either continued burning or a cut and fill program, — and most certainly something must be done before too long, — is it better to accumulate money, or should the money be raised when needed through special tax or bond issue?

This is the point that is being given a lot of consideration right now, and it is a point that must be decided before the new garbage rate resolution is actually passed.

One item that was included in the initial consideration of a new rate schedule — a general charge sufficient to cover the cost of hauling away materials such as prunings, and other yard refuse, for which a special charge is now made, has been eliminated from the new general, proposed garbage disposal rate on the basis that persons needing this service should pay for it, as they now do, rather than forcing all to pay regardless of whether or not they use the service.

But what about those obvious future needs? Should money be accumulated to meet them, or should they be met, when the problem becomes acute, through taxation or a bond issue?

We think members of the city council would appreciate an expression of opinion from you, the people.

DONALD BAXLEY, STATIONED WITH AIR FORCE IN SAUDI ARABIA, TELLS OF SUMMER VISIT TO THE HOLY LAND

(Donald Baxley, who graduated from Porterville high school in 1951 and who is now stationed with the U.S. Air Force in Saudi Arabia, writes about a visit to the Holy Land in the following article.)

By Donald Baxley

A party of 27 of us left Dhahran Airfield, Saudi Arabia in a C-54 aircraft for a trip to Jerusalem and a tour of the Holy Land. The flying distance from Dhahran to Jerusalem is 1025 miles. We left Dhahran on 10 August 1960 at 7:00 a.m. and arrived in Jerusalem, Jordan, the same day at 12:15 p.m. There is a difference of three hours time, making it 9:15 a.m. in Jerusalem.

We were met at the plane by Mr. David Camal (Camal in Arabic means mother) of the Hilmi

O. Dakkah Tourist Agency of Jerusalem, Jordan. He had several new cars standing by and after clearing customs for us we drove to the City Hotel in Jerusalem. Each one was assigned a room where we rested until lunch time in the hotel.

From our hotel we could see Mt. Zion in the Jewish Section beyond No Man's Land. The two sectors of the city are heavily guarded and are in a state of tension and armed neutrality. The American Consulate with its beautiful trees, shrubbery and grass is located in the vicinity of No Man's Land. Part of the rear wall was shot away during the Israeli-Arab War which started 15 May 1948 and lasted until the end of 1949.

In the Jewish Sector the population is over 200,000. In the glasses. Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baxley of Porterville; his wife is now living in Porterville.

In addition, there are 500,000 Refugees in Jordan and an additional 500,000 Refugees in Egypt, Gaza, Syria, Lebanon and Iraq. These million Refugees are both Arab and Jews.

Our first tour after lunch on 10 August 60 was the village of Bethany which is 2 miles out of Jerusalem on the road to Jericho. Here we saw the home of Mary and Martha, where Lazarus died. We visited Lazarus' Tomb from which Jesus raised him from the dead. No one knows where Lazarus was buried when he died a second time.

A short distance from Bethany is the Abudes Village where Mary and Martha met Jesus and told Him that Lazarus was dead. Lazarus was dead for 4 days. In Bethany we saw the sight of the home of Simon the leper who invited Jesus for dinner.

Halfway to Jericho on the left side of the road we saw the Good Samaritan Inn which has a well out back which is 2,000 years old. It was at this location that the original Inn stood where the Good Samaritan took the man wounded on the Jericho Road.

On the way to Jericho we drove over mountains that were 2,600 feet above sea level. It was interesting to see rocky caves in the mountains where the Arabs live. They select places which are located in the vicinity of a well. Along the way we saw several Bedouin tents.

After this we visited Elisha's

Cattlemen To Discuss Wide Range Of Problems At State Meeting In Santa Barbara, December 9 And 10

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24 — The wide range of problems facing the cattle industry today proves that there is a lot more to being a cattleman than just turning out the cows in the spring and gathering the calves in the fall.

The California Cattleman's association holding its 44th annual convention in Santa Barbara, December 9 and 10 has scheduled a program of speakers that graphically illustrates the variety of problems facing today's cattleman.

Brunel Christensen of Likely, concluding his second year as president of the California Cattlemen's association, will preside at the business sessions being held at the Miramar hotel.

American National Cattlemen's association president, Fred Dressler of Gardnerville, Nevada, Congressman Charles M. Teague of the 13th Congressional district in California, and David M. Petus, director, Livestock division, Agricultural Marketing service, USDA, will all discuss different aspects of the national picture.

National Resources Department Director DeWitt Nelson; John Keith, assessment standards division of the State board of equalization; State Senator James A. Cobey, of Merced; and Daniel G. Aldrich, Jr., dean, school of agriculture, University of California at Davis, will cover matters of state-wide interest.

Dr. W. Ballentine Henley, an educator and civic leader, sponsored by General Motors, will provide a change of pace by reminding the cattlemen that their problems are related to those of many other individuals and groups.

The current interest in beef grading will focus special attention on the talk by N. L. Chaplicki, vice president of National Tea company. His subject will be: "Merchandising Overly Fat Beef".

The Santa Barbara Cattlemen's association is acting as the host group. Charles Sudden, Lompoc, is the organization's president; Mrs. Sudden is in charge of Cow Belle arrangements for the convention, and Frank Giorgi, Gavilota, is the over-all convention chairman.

County Employees Will Ask For Civil Service Vote

VISALIA, Nov. 24 — Members of the Tulare County Employee's association have instructed President Lawrence Cone to name a committee to develop a civil service plan for county employees.

Aim is to have a measure on the ballot as soon as possible providing a civil service setup for the county.

FOUR CALIFORNIANS IN RODEO FINALS

DENVER, Nov. 24 — Four Californians are among cowboys on the current unofficial roster for the National Finals rodeo, December 27 - January 1. They are: Harley May and Jim Charles of Oakdale; Ed LeTourneau, Davis; and John Hawkins, Twaine Hart.

AGRICULTURAL FROST WARNINGS GIVEN NIGHTLY

VISALIA, Nov. 24 — Frost warnings for the citrus industry will again be available to growers of Tulare county, according to Sheldon N. Jackson, Tulare County Farm advisor, with Thomas R. Crossan, fruit-frost specialist, U.S. department of commerce, weather bureau, conducting this work from his headquarters in Lindsay.

Valley radio and television stations giving the frost warnings are listed below with the times that they will carry them nightly:

KTIP, Porterville, 8:15 and 10:00 p.m.; KCOK, Tulare, 8:15 and 10:00 p.m.; KONG, Visalia, 8:15 p.m.; KNGS, Hanford, 8:15 and 9:00 and 11:30 p.m.; KFRE, Fresno, about 8:05 p.m.; KMJ, Fresno, 8:30 p.m.; and KMJ-TV, Fresno, 9:00 p.m.

The warnings also can be heard over radio station KFI, Los Angeles at 8:00 p.m. and KNX, Los Angeles at 9:05 p.m.

This service is provided, in part, through an appropriation to the Tulare County Farm and Home Advisors office by the county board of supervisors. The service started November 1 and will continue through May 31.

Sheep and lambs on feed for market fattening in California on November 1 totalled 320,000 head; total in the seven major feeding states was 2,400,000.

VOTERS THANKED BY REPUBLICAN COUNTY CHAIRMAN

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 24 — Voters of Tulare county were thanked this week for their efforts in the 1960 general election campaign that culminated in the November 8 election, by Bill Rodgers, of Porterville, chairman of the Tulare County Republican Central committee. Rodgers' statement follows:

As chairman of the Tulare County Republican Central Committee, I want to thank the many people, both Democrats and Republicans, who worked for and who voted for the Nixon-Lodge ticket in the November 8 election.

The fact that Vice President Nixon carried Tulare County by a strong majority indicates sincere work and sound thinking.

It is regrettable that as Tulare county goes, so does not go the nation.

I also want to thank the many fine Tulare county citizens who put issues above party and worked for Domer F. Power for State Assembly. It is gratifying that he also carried Tulare county.

In the 14th District congressional campaign, many voters favored Ray Arnett. While he did not carry Tulare county, certainly he ran a good race against a politically-strong incumbent opponent, and, for your support of Arnett, another sincere "thank you."

We Only Heard

BY BILL RODGERS

HANGOVER FROM Homecoming: When we saw John Daybell rushing around the Main and North street area along about 9 a.m. on November 11 with an official-looking clipboard in his hand, we sez to John, "What are you doing?" Sez John to us, "I'm on the parade committee. My job is to see that there is a band behind every horse." . . . According to some band members, John did his job well.

ONE ASPECT of human nature troubles us considerably — the tendency of some parents to malign and abuse police officers when said parents' children are picked up for infractions of the law. We're talking about serious infractions now — shoplifting, strong-arm stuff, concealed weapons, teenage drinking and drunk driving, traffic violations that really endanger others, theft, fights.

OFTEN, WHEN young punks, or young punks in the making, are picked up, they are already well-known to the police — they've been picked up before. But still some parents storm in and abuse the police, in effect making the police the guilty party rather than the children arrested. Apparently these parents work on one of two basic philosophies: 1. I'm somebody around this town, and you can't do this to my kids; and, 2. I'm no big shot around this town so you're picking on my kids.

REGARDLESS of whether it's the No. 1 or No. 2 thinking, the end is the same: My kids are lily white: the gestapo is persecuting them.

AND IT seems to us, after personally checking through on several juvenile cases, that there are two types of parents: The respectable citizens of the community and those who are not so respectable.

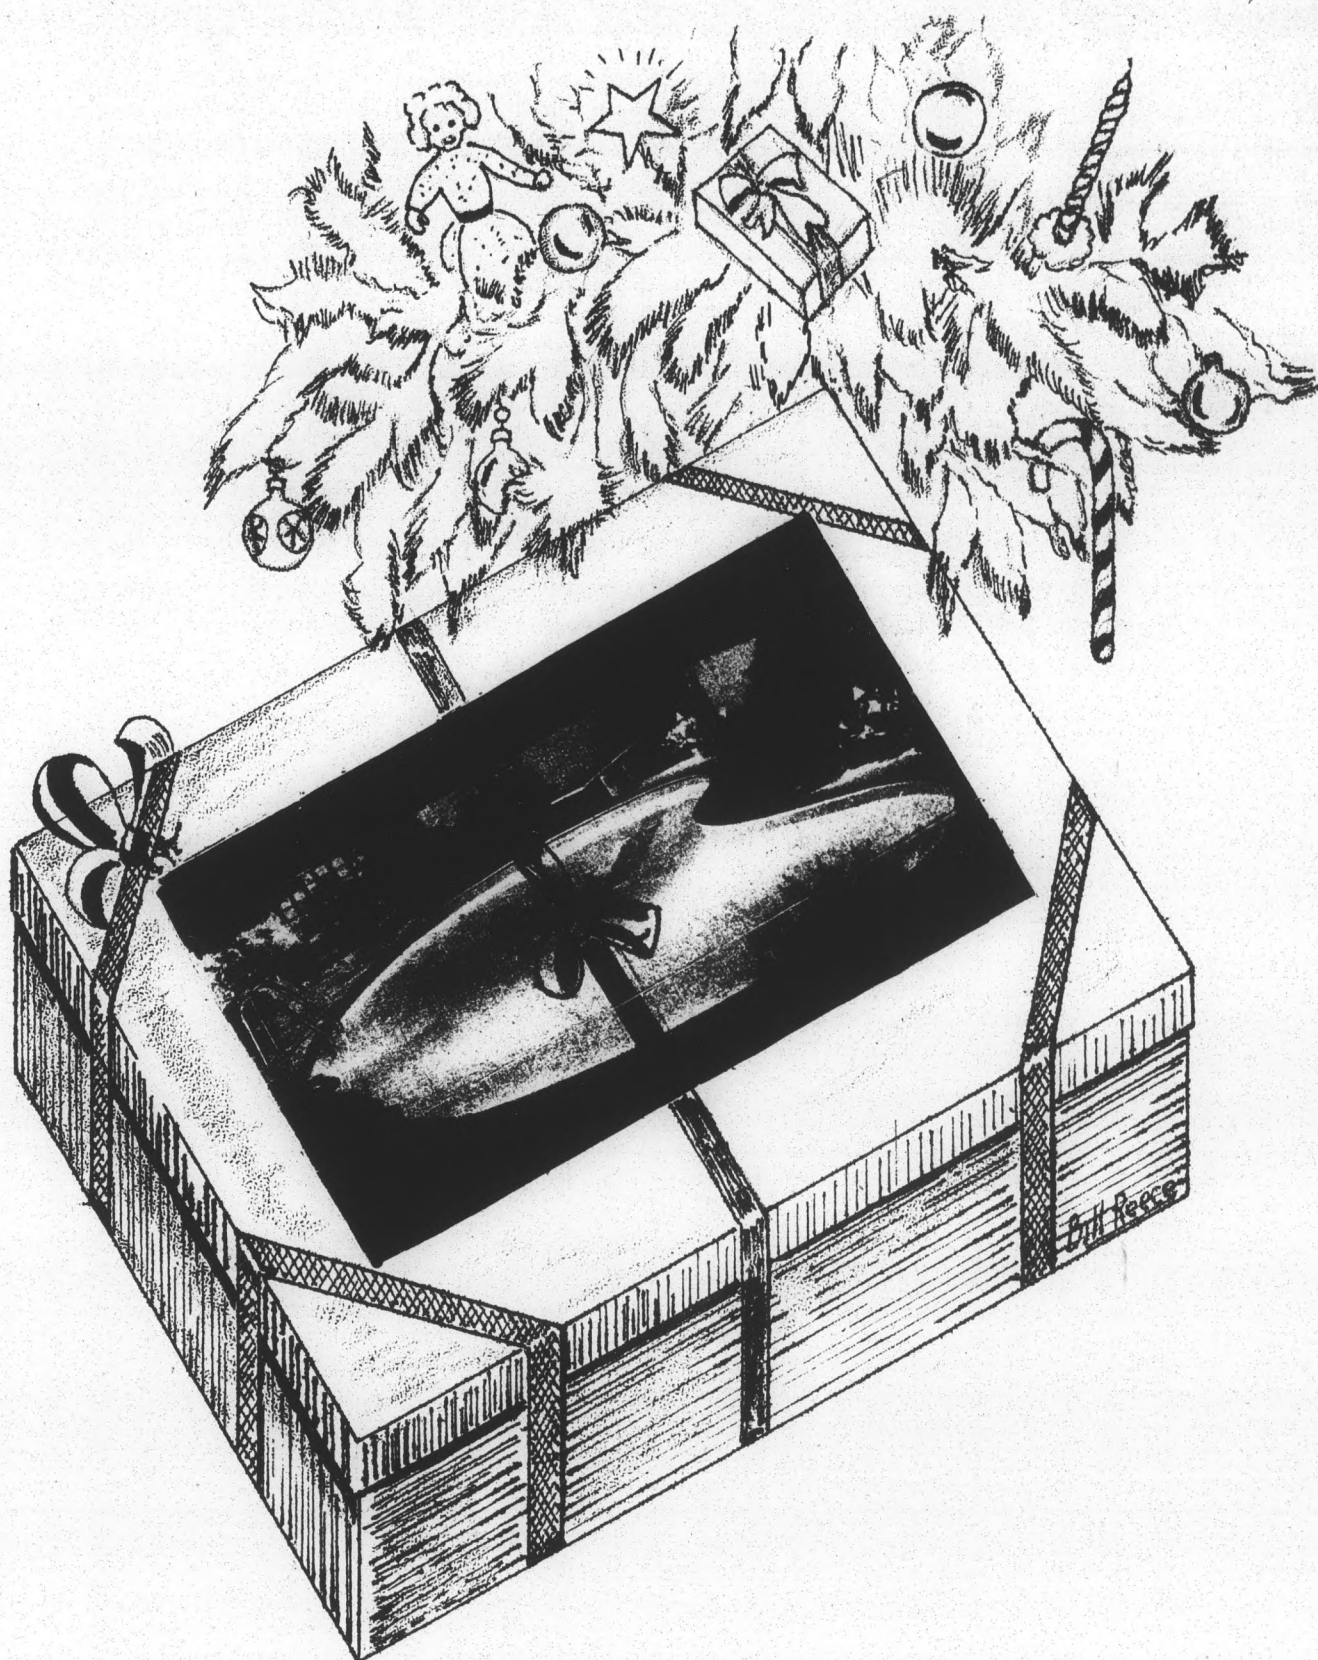

IN THE latter category are those parents who themselves have been in trouble with the law and who are well established as "cop haters" and adult punks. Unfortunately these parents pass their thinking on to their children, thereby building a foundation for trouble all through the lives of their children, unless these children, somewhere along the line, see the light.

CONCERNING THE first class of parents — the respectable citizens — we can appreciate what a shock it must be when their child's name shows up on the police blotter. To them we can only say that instead of roaring into the police office demanding to know "What have you done to my kids?" they might better walk in quietly, asking themselves, "What have I done to my kids?"

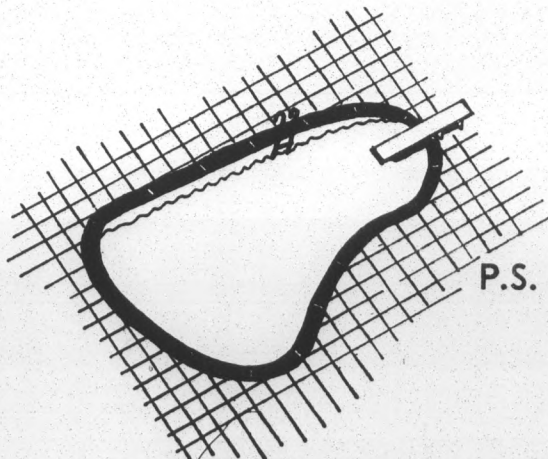

WE HAVE never bought, and we do not buy, the idea that police are a gestapo organization, or that they spend their time looking for juveniles to pick on. True enough, a cop, like the rest of us, may make a mistake, but the mistakes in the case of juvenile arrests are rare, the legitimate cases are in the great majority.

AS WE say, parent attitude concerns us considerably — and may we repeat that when a juvenile gets into trouble, question from the parent should be, "What have I done, what can I do now to help straighten out my child." Cops and juvenile authorities, will go all the way to help

VISALIA, Nov. 24 — A grade Holstein in the herd of E. M. Billingsley, of Tulare, topped the Tulare County Dairy Herd Improvement association for the month of October, producing 20,192 pounds of milk and 832.4 pounds of butterfat, during a 305-day lactation period.

YOUR LEGISLATOR AT WORK!

Senator
J. Howard Williams
32nd District
California State Legislature

Legislative-wise, life seldom gets more complicated than it does in the field of education and the public school system. Sometimes it seems almost incredible how carefully the pros and cons must be balanced in order to preserve and improve the best qualities of our California school organization. Based as it is on the historic tradition of individual districts, nevertheless our surging population growth requires constant reevaluation and realignment of the responsibilities and functions of districts, county school departments, and our state department of education.

The complexity of our work in this area was clearly outlined at a recent hearing of the Senate fact finding committee on education. Spokesmen for many segments of our educational machine appeared to give their views on important matters related to the better education of our children which will come before us at the 1961 session. Administrators, board members from both large and small districts, representatives from many organized groups, and others told the committee their opinions, many of which were widely divergent.

The first major subject taken up was the relationship between the county superintendents of schools and county boards of education. It was said that under a 1957 law amended in 1959, the boards are elected. However, in 50 of our 58 counties, the superintendents are also elected. Some charter counties, Los Angeles, Sacramento, and San Diego, provide for the appointment of the superintendent and in five counties, there is only one appointed superintendent. The county board of education then has the responsibility of setting policy, and his duty is to carry it out.

Spokesmen for the association of county superintendents pointed out the difficulties which can arise when both the county board and administrator are elected. Friction as to policy can create situations not for the best interests of good education.

The committee was also informed that a survey made of elected county superintendents reveals that most of them favor appointments to the office by the boards of education, and a substantial number think the law should make it mandatory. Also discussed were the question of whether the boards should be elected by districts, or on a county-wide basis, and the question as to whether the boards should be granted power to set salaries for superintendents.

A proposal made in a 1959 measure to transfer certain claim audit functions from the offices of the county superintendents to larger school districts capable of undertaking the task was also discussed in detail. The change would speed up the handling of claims against the district considerably, and would also reduce expense of handling them. County auditing officials, as well as school administrators appeared in support of such legislation.

The second major area of subject matter investigated was that of school district organization. Problems relating to the reorganization and unification of small school districts were also considered. Several specific changes in existing law to improve and simplify the processes involved were submitted by the statewide committee on district organization, a cooperative group representing many segments of school administration and interest. Problems of handling bonded indebtedness of districts newly organized were analyzed. Further development of the master plans for school district organization.

Fountain. This is the site where the prophet Elisha threw salt into the water to make it pure. Even today it is the only source of fresh drinking water in Jericho. The women of Jericho wash their clothes in the water in the morning and get drinking water out of the same place in the afternoon.

WALLS OF JERICHO: At this time we saw the actual walls of Jericho. The walls which were revealed several years ago, were found by digging down about 50 feet to the floor of the original city. The drive to Jericho from Jerusalem is a distance of 27 miles along winding mountainous roads. This is the old city where Joshua besieged the city and marched around it seven times with his men.

Without the Pilgrims there would be no THANKSGIVING DAY. As we look back, we wonder why did they give thanks. The only reasonable answer is that they had a prospect of living through another year in the freedom for which they had left Europe. We still have that freedom... let's be thankful for it and guard it well. VALLEY BODY COMPANY is thankful for your patronage.

California Fruit And Nuts Crop Below 1959

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 23—The production of California fruit and nut crops in the 1960 season is expected to be somewhat less than in 1959 according to the California Crop and Livestock Reporting service.

Larger crops of apricots, cherries, nectarines, olives, and walnuts were more than offset by the lighter production of apples, grapes, lemons, oranges, pears, and almonds. Total fruit and nut production and the 1960 output for most individual crops exceeds the 1949-58 average.

MOUNT OF TEMPTATION: From Old Jericho we saw the Mountain where Jesus was tempted three times.

Jericho is a sizeable modern city with a population of 130,000. We saw the Market Place in Jericho called the Suk. Green grass, Oleander bushes, trees and flowers were everywhere. As we approached Jericho we stopped and saw the Sycamore Tree that Zaechaeus climbed to get a look at Jesus as He passed by.

RIVER JORDAN: We came to the West Bank of the River. Gilgal, the place where Joshua came from when he crossed the Jordan on his way to besiege Jericho, is located a short distance up the Jordan River from where we were. We stood at the place where Jesus was baptized.

DEAD SEA: We drove from Jericho over the NAUR-DEAD SEA Highway to the Dead Sea. We saw the large Dead Sea Hotel which is modern and plush. We saw where the Dead Sea Scrolls were found. The Dead Sea is 27% salt. Its water is very bitter. There is no sea life at all and it is 48 miles long, 10 miles wide and 1,200 feet deep. They get potash, phosphorus, salt and magnesium from the Dead Sea.

We saw Mt. Nebo from the Dead Sea where God buried Moses. On the way back from the Dead Sea we saw the Mount of Olives in the distance, which was a beautiful sight.

Panther Band To All-Western Review Nov. 26

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 24—Porterville's classy high school Panther band will be shooting for top honors in its class when it competes, Saturday in the 20th Annual All-Western Band review in Long Beach.

Director Buck Shaffer's band will be in the line of march through Long Beach, starting at noon. Bands will be judged on general effect, general inspection, music and marching precision. Majorettes and drum majors will also be rated.

The band review is sponsored by the City of Long Beach; more than 60 high school bands will be competing this year.

Michael Sweeney, of Visalia, is one of 10 members of the state Cling Peach Advisory board.

BETTY ROADMAN, stage and screen actress, will appear Monday evening on "An Actress Looks At America", at a dinner meeting of the Executive Club of Porterville, 7 p.m. Monday, at the Women's clubhouse.

The third major area investigated is the proposal to encourage maintenance of a longer school year by the districts. This would be accomplished by re-defining the unit of "a.d.a." financial support granted by the state, so as to grant more aid for longer terms.

"ROPE" IS GOOD BARN THEATER PLAY BUT IT NEEDS A BIT OF SHARPENING

By Bill Rodgers
PORTERVILLE, Nov. 24 — "Rope", as presented Saturday night at Porterville's Barn theater, is a good, representative Barn play, but it can stand a bit of sharpening.

Specifically, in the opening scene, and in some of the other soft-voice scenes, people near the back just don't catch all that is being said, so they miss some of the groundwork.

And in a play that is designed to move right along, building suspense as it goes, the Barn's version of "Rope" is just a little slow and does not quite reach the high points of suspense that it should.

Yet in total this is a good play, and it will no doubt get better during its next two weekends, November 25 and 26, and December 2 and 3.

As for specific actors, our personal plaudits go to Clifford O'Neil, who seemed to be a little bit lost at first, but who came along with a fine performance as a murderer who was scared, and

Mr. O'Neil was real scared.

One of the Barn's "new old pros", Clarence Newman, does a competent, although not a really great job; brother Richard Newman, also getting into the "new old pro" class acts like the old man he is portraying, but doesn't look like an old man (makeup department please note); Bill Bailey, with his excellent voice and good stage presence, gives a sharp performance; Elizabeth Dobson, the "real old pro" of the "old pros" gets her shot at the spotlight in a supporting part, and rates a round of applause on exit; Lawrence Selner and Susan Scow, in other supporting roles, have a ways to go yet before they are in line for Hosscares.

William Payne Bourne, the Barn's new director, leaves no doubt but that he has arrived in Porterville. He is referred to seven times on a four-page program.

Actually, the Saturday night Barn looked like the old Barn — a good crowd, a receptive crowd, a number of out-of-towners, Barn Guild members getting enthusiastic.

And with the new director, who in his initial play indicates that he has something to offer, perhaps the Barn is going into another one of its "golden" cycles. We hope so.

Mrs. J. H. Richards Asks Clarification Of Obscenity

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 24 — A clear definition of obscenity, written into law, is advocated by Mrs. J. H. Richards, of Porterville, to halt the growing tide of smutty publications that are getting into the hands of juveniles.

Mrs. Richards, head of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers Juvenile Protective committee, has reported to the parent-teacher group that children have easy access to filthy paper-back books that are being sold by the hundreds of thousands in California.

This edition should find you comfortably stuffed with turkey and looking for a soft spot to recline until at least Monday. We would agree with this plan any time and we especially agree with it at Thanksgiving. Of course while you are reclining you should also be thankful. You may be thankful that you have so much to eat or thankful you don't eat that much every day.

You may even give thanks that the nurseries are closed on Thanksgiving and you can stay home and save your money. However, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday will find us attempting to part you from your loot again and your rest will be short.

You should also be thankful that nature balances things so well. In the summer she puts leaves on the trees to keep you cool and in winter she drops them off so you can keep warm raking. She also sends a little rain, knowing you can't get the plastic garden hose unknicked until warm weather returns.

Should you wander over our way we have some Colorado Spruce, Norway Spruce, and Mugho Pines fresh from the woods of Oregon — Pyracantha red berried from Ventura — Camellias blooming from Monrovia — Lots of free advice and other stuff like that from years of experience — with the problems of Portervilleans.

TULEQUOIA GETS "A" RATING AS SUMMER CAMP

TULARE, Nov. 24 — The Tulare County Y.M.C.A. Camp Tulequoia has qualified with a Class "A" rating for the National Y.M.C.A. Camping Certificate of Recognition, according to an announcement by Lewis Stroh, County Y.M.C.A. general secretary.

This certificate is awarded to summer camps upon the completion of upgrading standards in the areas of health, safety and sanitation, qualified staff, program objectives, and administration of the camp.

Stroh pointed out that the development of standards for organized summer camps has been going on for the past 25 years. Such standards have been adopted by the American Camping association, by most youth serving agencies, and more recently in the form of laws and regulations of county, local and state governments, including in California the State Department of Social welfare.

A minimum of 384 points is necessary to qualify for a Class "A" Certification — Tulequoia scored 609 as its total. This has been made possible, said Stroh, due to the wonderful response of volunteers in our camping program.

Over the past four year period more than $14,000 worth of improvements have been given to Camp Tulequoia by interested service clubs and individuals. High on the list of financial contributors is the Tulare Y's Men's club.

CHAPEL CHIMES

By
Rev. N. J.
Thompson

It is well that Americans devote a day to national thanksgiving. Truly God blesses us as a nation, making us rich and strong.

We cannot emphasize too much the goodness of God. Neither can we be too grateful to Him for the blessings He heaps upon our beloved land. It would be well, at this year's Thanksgiving season, to lay aside our divisive criticism and grumbling, and meditate on the innumerable ways in which a loving heavenly Father enriches our lives with countless blessings.

Over a century ago, a Quaker happened to be passing through a Mississippi town when a slave auction was announced. The slaves were displayed. Among them was a beautiful young woman. Then the auctioneer started. As he came to this girl the bids soared into thousands of dollars.

The Quaker found himself bidding against a cruel slave driver. The slaver was determined to buy the girl. But every time he raised the price, the Quaker raised his bid too. Finally the Quaker got the girl.

The Quaker had freedom papers drawn up, setting the girl free from slavery forever. The slave girl fell at his feet. With tears of gratitude, she promised to serve him as long as she lived.

The Christian has been redeemed from servitude to sin and Satan. Christ has paid the full price — with His lifeblood outpoured on Calvary's tree. Surely we should fall humbly at His feet. Surely we should thank Him for His wondrous love. Surely we should prove our gratitude by serving Him wholeheartedly, all the days of our lives.

"Enter into His gates with thanksgiving, and into His courts with praise: be thankful unto Him, and bless His name. For the Lord is good . . ." Psalm 100.

Organizations Asked To Assist In Student Program

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 24 — The Porterville chapter of the American Field service is ready to proceed with the final stages of the Exchange student program.

Jack Letsinger, chairman of the Porterville chapter, disclosed that all the local selection committees are functioning at full speed in order to be ready for next year's exchange student and to prepare for the local high school student to be sent abroad next summer.

As last year, the organization needs the full support of all Porterville service clubs and organizations in pledging funds necessary to bring the foreign student to Porterville. The High School Student council supports the expenses in sending a local student abroad.

Letsinger states that all service clubs will shortly be mailed envelopes in which the clubs can return their subscriptions to again assure success of the Exchange Student program.

F. B. Pressley, former administrative assistant at the Porterville State hospital, who is facing bad check charges, is no longer associated with the hospital.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Car Sickness

• Gritty Mouth

Q. What can be done to help a child who gets carsick? Are there drugs to take or is it "all in the head?"

A. Several drugs are now available which help prevent carsickness. Your doctor can offer advice along these lines. Motion sickness isn't entirely "imagination," as anyone who has ever been sick can testify. However, excitement and suggestion do play a part. It would be best not to mention the possibility of getting sick to the child. If vomiting occurs, don't make a fuss. Otherwise, the child may employ this means of gaining attention.

Q. What can I do for a gritty feeling in my mouth?
A. If you wear dentures, keep them scrupulously clean. Although this may help, mouth grittiness is not unusual in persons past 50 or so.

of 1963.

Named to again handle the sale of exhibit space and fair program advertising was Lee Martin. Directors adopted the theme of "Porterville Centennial" for the 1961 fair and Bob Bennett, Merv Brown and Richard Owen were named as a committee to work out a contest with ribbon awards, for 1961 fair exhibitors who best carry out the Centennial theme. Directors generally discussed enlarging livestock facilities for the 1961 fair, and plans for better police protection during the fair.

Directors attending the Monday meeting were: Chester Gilbert, Rolla Bishop, Bob Board, Guido Lombardi, Bill Rodgers, Hodgson, Bennett, Brown, Owen and Anderson.

Dates of the 1961 Porterville fair are May 18, 19 and 20.

BULLS

In the past, most sales of this type have offered their stock on the basis of their conformation and blood lines rather than on performance tests. However, it is interesting to note that in the Saturday sale the same animals that recorded good daily gains on the University of California's scale of plus and minuses which was used in addition to the weight gains. For example, the bull referred to above was graded 2 plus which indicates his high degree of breeding qualities as well as his ability to put on pounds.

But perhaps more interesting than the daily gains recorded by the animals in the five-month feed lot trials, are their daily weight gains since birth, which show a remarkable one and three-quarters pounds per day as an average for the 37 head offering. Particularly is this remarkable when one considers that these animals have been range-raised and fed.

Whether other breeders' organizations will follow the pattern set by the valley Hereford group remains to be seen, but one thing is certain, as far as the San Joaquin Valley breeders are concerned, the scale is here to stay.

Sale bulls averaged $456, with a $700 top.

If U.S. population reaches 230 million by 1975, as predicted, farmers must produce 16.3 billion pounds more meat, 47 billion pounds more milk, 20 billion tons more fruits and vegetables, and 20 billion more eggs.

to the Tule River Indian reservation. For several years the annual Springville rodeo has been held at the Gill ranch arena on the Balch Park road.

Representing the five Springville civic groups that make up the Springville Rodeo association are: Tom Masonheimer, Lions' club; Ed Cook and Darwin Griswold, Farm Bureau Center; Jack Gregg, and Gifford, chamber of commerce; Carlos Gregg and Jay Jennings, Grange; Herb Brown and Del Parrott, Veterans of Foreign Wars; and Bruce Borror, director-at-large.

The average cow gives milk averaging 3.8% butterfat, 3.5% protein, and many other nutrients in the remaining 87.2%.
